

Curriki Privacy Policy

Information Collection & Use

Registration

In order to use this Web site, you must first complete the registration form and create a user name and password. During registration you are required to give contact information (such as your email address).

Curriki is the sole owner of the contact and usage information collected on Curriki.org. Curriki collects personally identifiable information from our users at several different points on our Web site.

Log Files

As is true of most Web sites, we gather certain information automatically and store it in log files. This information includes internet protocol (IP) addresses, browser type, internet service provider (ISP), referring/exit pages, operating system, date/time stamp, and clickstream data.

We use this information, which does not identify individual users, to analyze trends, to administer the site, to track users' movements around the site and to gather demographic information about our user base as a whole.

We do not link this automatically-collected data to personally identifiable information. However, your account is associated with any and all contributions you make to the site and you are responsible for adhering to all presently published IP policies.

Cookies

A cookie is a small text file that is stored on a user's computer for record-keeping purposes. We use both session ID cookies and/or persistent cookies. We use session cookies to make it easier for you to navigate our site. A session ID cookie expires when you close your browser. A persistent cookie remains on your hard drive for an extended period of time. You can remove persistent cookies by following directions provided in your Internet browser's "help" file.

We set a persistent cookie to store your User Name and Passwords, so you don't have to enter it more than once. Persistent cookies also enable us to track and target the interests of our users to enhance the experience on our site.

If you reject cookies, you may still use our site, but your ability to use some areas of our site, may be limited.

This privacy statement covers the use of cookies by Curriki only.

Profile

We store information that we collect through registration and the contributions you make to the community to create a “profile” of your preferences and activities, to serve the community and to enforce IP and use policies. All contributions you make on the site are linked to your user profile and login/screen name. If you have shared your profile, any member of the site can view your profile and the information stored there (Except your password) and all of your published contributions (But not your unpublished contributions). Even if you choose to keep your profile private, all members can see your published contributions and that your screen name is associated with the contribution.

We share do not share your profile with other third parties.

Uses of Information

Curriki collects personal information that you disclose when you register with the site and through your use of the services on the site. Curriki automatically receives and records information on our server logs from your browser, including your IP address, Curriki cookies, the contributions you make and the page you request. Curriki uses information for the following general purposes: monitor traffic, to improve our services, enforce terms of use and IP policies, contact you, and conduct research.

Communications from the Site

Newsletters and Site Pages

If you wish to subscribe to our newsletter(s) or “Watch” pages on our site, we will use your name and email address to send the newsletter or page to you. Out of respect for your privacy, we provide you a way to unsubscribe. Please see the “Choice and Opt-out” section.

Service-related Announcements

We will send you strictly service-related announcements on rare occasions when it is necessary to do so. For instance, if our service is temporarily suspended for maintenance, we might send you an email.

Generally, you may not opt-out of these communications, which are not promotional in nature. If you do not wish to receive them, you have the option to deactivate your account.

Customer Service

Based upon the personally identifiable information you provide us, we will send you a welcoming email to verify your username and password. We will also communicate with you in response to your inquiries, to provide the services you request as reasonable.

Information Sharing and Disclosure

Personally identifiable information

We do not share personally identifiable information with third parties as long as you keep your user profile private. Curriki does not rent, sell, or share personal information about you collected in connection with your use of the Curriki Website with other people or entities, except as otherwise specified.

If your personally identifiable information changes, or if you no longer desire our service, you may correct, update, delete or deactivate your profile by making the change on our member information page (“My Curriki”) or by sending an e-mail to webmaster@curriki.org or by contacting through any method described in the Curriki Contact Page.
